

Case Study #3 - Due Diligence Consulting

Let Your Data Grow[®]

- Challenge: We were asked by a venture capital company to evaluate the potential for a pharmaceutical product of a company they were considering adding to their portfolio.
- Solution: Our expert statistician reviewed the literature, publicly available information, and assisted in determining a range of likely results for the completion of the study. This was used to provide additional insight into the investment opportunity.
- Result: The investment company was able to make an informed investment decision with confidence.
